Finally the assembled pages, containing cuts and type, made in Tull view, will be moved into the steriotyping room, where the casts will be made from the papier mache matrix, taken under high steam pressure.

Before the lead is cold, the visitors will take the elevator for the basement, finding that the cast pages have been shot through the tube ahead of them. A moment later the great presses will begin to revolve, rolls of paper feeding into the color press on top, then down through the four-decked machine, passing automatically through the folder and binder, and coming out with ascoulabing rapidity as the complete souvenir paper, pre-

Fleet Officers To-Day.

The opening meeting to-day will be mainly for organization, the election of officers and the appointment of committees. The first floor parlor of Murphy's annex will be the headquarters, and here the registration book will be kept. Badges will be issued to all correspondents on registration, a light blue ribbon, appropriately marked, having been prepared, while a number of Richmond newspaper men, wearing white badges, will act as a reception committee to look after the comfort of the guests. The findings of the coroner's jury mean practically indictments for both Archie Vaughan and the Pope woman by the grand jury, which ineets in a short time.

Contradiced Dr. Cosby.

His testimony was contradictory of several statements previously made by Dr. Cosby, who had declared that he went with the witness to collect a 55-cent bill, and that he entered the house to get a cup of water. Dr. Cosby declared in the same breath that he asked Mr. Vick to go with him, and that Mr. Vick asked him to accompany him (Dr. Cosby) to the Pope house. Detective-Sergeants Ballet, Wren and McMahon also testified. They reviewed the case, and gave a detailed account of the events as they knew them which had led up to the girl's death.

The jury then retired, and were in consultation for an hour before they decided upon a verdiot. The proceedings were harmonious, and the discussions were over only trivial points of law and evidence. It remains now only to apprehend Archie Vaughan to make the case complete. It is believed by the police that they have evidence enough to convict both persons named in the Jury's verdict as responsible for the young woman's death. They have unfolded the story of her undoing followed her almost every step, and knitted a chain of evidence that is practically unbreakable.

MAY NOT TRY BURKE TO-DAY

Judže Waddili's Illness and Request of Counsel May Delay Rearing.

For a number of reasons set forth by them at private meetings during the last two days, counsel for Frank P. Burke have been pressing Judge Edmund Waddill, of the United States District Court, for a continuance of the case which is docketed for this morning at 10 o'clock, Judge Waddill stated last night that he would not be in a position to give a definite answer better the opening of court.

It is probable, however, that he will grant the continuance, more on account of the fact that he is now quite ill it han in response to the pleas of lawyers. Despite the fact that the case will probably not come to trial for some time, a long list of will research were summoned yesterday afternoon, and will be on hand at the court-room at 10 o'clock this morning.
